DEAR PROSPECTIVE STUDENT,

Every year on the third Friday of March, residency placements are announced by the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP). Commonly known as "Match Day," the process usually begins the prior summer as program directors review applications and invite selected candidates for interviews between October and February. The culmination of this in late March is one of the most eagerly awaited moments of a physician's career.

In reviewing the results of Match Day 2024 and of those who applied outside the NRMP, I'm once again pleased to report on the success of AUA graduates in securing prestigious residency positions throughout the United States and Canada. For those who once believed a career in medicine was out of reach, that path is now a firm reality. The AUA community is immensely proud of our recent graduates' achievements.

AUA's holistic admissions approach ensures you're evaluated for your achievements, contributions, service and potential to succeed. We recognize that you are much more than a test score, and based on the exceptional success of our graduates, AUA has continually demonstrated a strong eye for applicants with talent, determination and compassion.

Our admissions team looks forward to discussing with you the vast opportunities and comprehensive medical education that AUA College of Medicine offers. Please visit auamed.org for more information, and please reach out to us at any time.

On behalf of myself and AUA's faculty, staff and community, congratulations to all of our graduates who are making a difference in their community.

Sincerely,

PETER BELL, MD AUA President
